BRITA has always taken its responsibility towards consumers very seriously and therefore of course followed sector-specific Union harmonisation legislation that addresses the safety aspects of specific products or categories of product in the sense of Article 2 of GPSR. Hence, BRITA has established various internal and external quality control procedures to mitigate potential risks covered e.g. by Regulation (EC) No 1935/2004, Regulation (EU) No 10/2011, Low voltage directive (2014/35/EU), Electromagnetic Compatibility Directive (2014/30/EU) etc. For example, independent and renowned institutes such as TÜV SÜD regularly check the quality of the BRITA filter cartridges and confirm their food grade quality in accordance with German and European legislation. In addition to external tests, the quality of the filters is also regularly subjected to stringent testing procedures in our own laboratories at BRITA's headquarters in Germany.
